Officers of Grand Lodge Installed.

At the meeting of the Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., held Thursday night at Odd Fellows Hall, in Seventh Street northwest, the by-laws and rules of the recently-organized Odd Fellows' Home Association of the District of Columbia were submitted to the Grand Lodge and ratified by that body. The Home Association committee will hold a meeting in the early part of August, at which time steps will be taken to effect a better organization and take means to secure a site for the proposed home.

The home committee consists of the following officers and directors: President, E. W. Bradford; vice president, W. H. McNeill; secretary, J. J. Porter, and treasurer, J. T. Petty. The board of directors consists of the above officers in addition to the following: Mrs. Ella B. Russ, George Z. Colson, John I. Brown, Philip Walker, and J. H. Crew.

In addition to the ratification of the by-laws the meeting was devoted to the installation of the grand officers elected on Wednesday night, and to the installation of the following appointed officers and committees: Grand marshal, Philip Walker; grand conductor, A. R. Vermillion; grand chaplain, D. D. Love; grand guardian, W. G. Phillips; grand herald, Milton B. Hundley, and grand representatives, Messrs. Steir and Allen.

The committees approved were credentials, returns, finance, appeals, supervision, printing, state of the order, by-laws, and Rebekah lodges.

Knights of Pythias Attend Volks Fest.

Washington Division, No. 1, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, were present at the German Volks Fest at Lottier's lawn Wednesday evening, and gave an exhibition drill. The entertainment was particularly interesting to the several thousand people who were fortunate enough to be present.

Odd Fellows' Excursion.

The excursion given by Marshall Hall under the auspices of the I. O. O. F. help committee Friday was well patronized, and the fund for the Odd Fellows' Home, in the interest of which the excursion was given, will be substantially increased as a result.

The committee in charge of the excursion provided an entertaining program of amusements, including a tub race, swimming race, running races, three-legged race, potato races, and baseball games. Considerable interest was shown in a game of ball between two picked nines, captained by Past Grand Master John I. Brown and Grand Marshal E. W. Bradford, respectively. Last year the "Brads" and the "Browns" as the nines have been named by the fraternity, met in three contests, and in each the Browns were vanquished. They hoped to begin this season by winning from their old-time rivals, but after five long innings of exceptional baseball playing, in which the work of both sides was about equally brilliant, they gave up the task, and both sides retired from the field to where the ladies had provided lunch, and tried to forget the terrible strife in the enjoyment of the contents of the baskets and the box of cigars won by the "Brads," but generously divided with their rivals. The score at the close stood 15 to 4 in favor of the "Brads."

The members of Myron M. Parker Lodge, No. 27, F. A. A. M., were entertained by their junior warden, Dr. C. F. Taylor, pastor of Woodside M. E. Church, and an address was delivered also by J. Eldridge Burns, first pastmaster. Music was rendered by Misses Mabel Whitney and Mammie Wilson. After refreshments were served the evening was spent in a social way.

Drill Corps on Excursion.

The drill corps of Columbia Commandery, No. 2, K. T., gave its third annual excursion to Marshall Hall yesterday afternoon and last night. Several hundred visitors joined with the members of the commandery and their ladies in a very enjoyable affair. There were athletic sports in the afternoon and a band concert and fireworks in the evening. Boats left the city at 10 a. m., 2:30, 6:30, and 6:45 p. m. The excursion was designed for the benefit of the fund which is being raised to carry the commandery to the triennial convocation at San Francisco.

The following committee was in charge of the excursion: Jackson Blair, chairman; Charles Long, secretary, and G. O. Kneiss, treasurer. The honorary judges of the athletic events were Henry L. West, Richard Sylvester, and R. M. Nevitt. The athletic exercises were in charge of a committee headed by Samuel W. Stinemetz and Frank K. Raymond, with F. A. Sebring as clerk of course, Professor John Crossley as starter, and Fred W. Behrens, Thomas B. Walker and William C. Long timers.

At the conclusion of the installation ceremonies, the brethren were invited to the blue room, where refreshments were served.

Maccabee Notes.

In addition to the assistance rendered last week to Sir Knight Seratte, who had his child burned to death, his wife to die from burns received in trying to save the child, and whose earthly possessions were all burned about ten days or two weeks ago, the State commander has taken the matter in hand and laid it before the different tents as fast as he could reach them, with splendid results. Anacostia, National, Brookland, and District Tents have each made liberal appropriations.

The State commander installed the officers of Brookland Tent, No. 2, on Tuesday night last. This tent is composed of the best citizens of that suburban town, and is steadily growing. District No. 8 will close the month of July with 100 members.

The officers of Brightwood Tent, No. 5, were installed last Tuesday night by Past Commander Thomas, the State commander not being able to be present.

District Tent, No. 8, will take its place by the end of August, among the largest five tents in the District of Columbia.

Sir Knight E. P. Ellis was installed commander of Brookland Tent, No. 2, last Tuesday night.

The Maccabees, under the present management in this city, are proving themselves to be a great fraternal organization, by their assistance to those in distress.

Faith Lodge Session.

The second regular meeting of Faith Lodge, No. 14, of the Independent Order of Good Templars, was held last evening in Odd Fellows Hall, Thirty-first Street. Miss Maude Richardson, chief templar, presided. The chair gave fraternal greetings to visitors from Perseverance, Silver Star, and Mianehaha lodges. Of the Grand Lodge officers there were present Grand Templar Russell, the grand superintendent, Mr. Sell, the grand secretary, Mr. Bryson, and Assistant Grand Secretary Herbert Bryson. The record of the proceedings of the institution of the lodge, as made by the grand secretary, was read by that officer. At the conclusion of routine business a drill in the marshal's march was had, conducted by the grand templar. Miss Greaves presided at the organ.

The program, Mrs. Dugan, chairman of the committee, included brief addresses upon "How to Build Up the Lodge" by Messrs. Smith and Lenz and Mrs. Belt and Mrs. Waters, and an extended description and contrast of conditions in America and Europe as these relate to temperance work and temperance workers, by Mr. Bryson. He spoke from the standpoint of personal experience in both countries.

The chief templar announced the chairman of several committees to serve during the first quarter.

Charitable.

Episcopal Hospital Report.

The Episcopal Eye, Ear, and Throat Hospital during the last year has largely increased its sphere of usefulness. Over three thousand patients were treated. Of these a good majority were free and although the institution is under the control of the Episcopal Church the following excerpt from the table of religious beliefs of the patients shows that neither race nor creed is barred when it requires ministrations. Seven hundred and eighty-nine Baptists as compared with 736 Episcopalians and 642 Methodists with 540 Roman Catholics demonstrate this fact.

Lawn Party by Rescue League.

The Woman's Rescue League gave a lawn party and entertainment at Fairview, Chevy Chase, last evening. The following program was given: Whistling solo, by A. B. Griffith, accompanied by Claude A. Lindsey; "Runaway Girl," fancy dance, Mabel Cosgrove; recitation, "Furniture Man," Erwin Cosgrove; vocal solo, Mrs. Stella Raymond. The affair was a success and gathered in much of the realm which will enable the League to relieve many cases of destitution among the poor in this city.

Working Boys' Home.

The Working Boys' Home has been rather depleted of its membership during the past week. Dan Dorne and Malcolm Trowbridge, two of the older lads, left on Monday for their home in Atlanta, Ga. They were general favorites and are greatly missed among the boys. Edward Malcolm, another of the older boys, left for unknown reasons, and Clarence Murray is going into the country on Monday.

Bell Summer Home.

The summer home of the Bell Home at Colonial Beach is doing a good work for the sick children of the poor in Washington. The children are given a salt air outing of two weeks and possibly longer. Over seventy-five can be accommodated at the Home, which is spaciouly located in the middle of an acre and a half of shaded ground. The little ones return from their short vacation rejuvenated in body and with a fund of pleasant days in memory to enliven the dull winter of their sad little lives. Mrs. Davenport is president of the Home association, with Mrs. Satterlee, wife of the bishop, as one of the coadjutors, vice president.

PATRIOTIC.

The Minute Men.

At the regular assembly of Minute Men, Monday evening, large delegations from the Spanish War Veteran associations of the District were present by invitation, accompanied by Adjutant General Dwyer and Capt. George West Byron. Col. M. A. Winter and Lieut. Col. E. R. Campbell explained in detail the object of the patriotic military organization of Minute Men, when the young veterans expressed a unanimous wish to join the regiment and signed formal applications for active membership. The executive board took favorable action, and the recruits were divided into two groups, designated, respectively, as Company A and Company B. First Battalion, First Regiment of the District of Columbia Minute Men, and Leon Barnett was unanimously elected captain of Company A, and William B. Smith elected captain of Company B. The company organizations will be completed by Monday evening, and commissions will be issued to the new officers after examination by the regimental board.

Two additional companies of young veterans will be organized at an early date, completing the First Battalion of the regiment, which will be armed with flintlock muskets, similar to those used during the period of the War of the Revolution.

Much interest and enthusiasm was aroused by a patriotic reminiscent address by Gen. Thomas H. McKee.

Temperance.

White Ribboners Meet.

West End Woman's Christian Temperance Union held a meeting Wednesday last at "Smitholn," the suburban residence of Mrs. Clinton Smith, the president of the District Union. Mrs. Elizabeth H. Catching, vice president of West End Union, presided. She read a letter from Mrs. Ruth M. G. Pealer, the absent president, which was received with applause. The devotions were led by Mrs. E. S. Wescott, of Cleveland Park, the first president of the union, who made interesting remarks.

A letter was read from a member of the union now traveling around the world. Miss Belle Pettigrew, sister of ex-Senator Pettigrew, carried letters of introduction from the District president to the unions in Burma, India, China, Japan and the Philippines. Her letter told of the unions in those countries and their good work.

When Mrs. C. P. Grandfield, the District treasurer, told of the world's convention just closed in Geneva, Switzerland, a Swiss flag was displayed. All the delegates voted to take up the subject of scientific temperance instruction and Mrs. Mary H. Hunt was made the head of that department for the world. The subject of caring for emigrant girls was discussed and has also been adopted by representatives of all the nations affiliated. Ambassadors of the countries interested have been consulted and preventive work will be pushed. All of the officers of the world's W. C. T. U. have been re-elected, including Lady Henry Somerset as president. She has declined re-election to the presidency of the British Woman's Temperance Association in favor of Lady Rosalind, Countess of Carlisle.

Visitors present who were called on for remarks were Mrs. J. E. Amos, of North Capitol Union; Mrs. L. D. Merrick, of Le Droit Union; Mrs. Walter Brown, of Georgetown; Miss Temple, of the Berlitz School of Languages; Mrs. McMillan and Miss Hough. Mrs. C. W. Gallacher, of Rust Hall, spoke of the nobility of the motive of the work humbly undertaken and the marvelous success by which it had been crowned.

Mrs. W. E. De Riemer, District corresponding secretary, gave notice of the annual convention to be held October 27 and 28, in the Sunday school house of Calvary Baptist Church. Mrs. Shellan, the recording secretary, was detained from being present by work in connection with the Anti-Saloon League.

LYNCHERS' CRY HEARD AT CONEY ISLAND

Mob of a Thousand Tries to String Shooter to a Telegraph Pole.

NEW YORK, July 18.—Among the attractions of Coney Island today there was an attempt at lynching when George Bove, of 50 Mott Street, Manhattan, pulled a pistol and after a running fight, shot Patrick Burns, a railroad employe, severely wounding him. Burns dropped to the ground when hit, and the crowd, thinking that he was dead, raised a cry of "Lynch him!" The police arrested Bove, but he was dragged from their hands and would have been strung to a telegraph pole if the reserves had not appeared on the scene and rescued him. In order to do this they had to fight a mob of a thousand persons mad with anger.

In the rush to escape from the reserves members of the mob knocked down and trampled on women, and three of them who had fainted were attended by an ambulance surgeon before they could return home.

Policemen Battersey, Snyder, and Adams were on the scene and seized George Bove, but before they could take him to the station the mob surged around them, broke their grasp upon the prisoner and were hustling him away when the reserves arrived, spurred to greater speed by the threats of lynching heard on all sides. They wrested Bove away from his captors, who fled to escape arrest.

NEVER SO HAPPY IS LUKENS AS WHEN AWAY UP IN THE AIR

Long-Distance Chat With a Steeple Jack.

"Most people are far beneath me," remarked "Steeple Jack" Charles B. Lukens, as he dabbed white paint on the flagpole on top of The Times Building.

Eighty feet below the daring aerial artist, with uplifted faces, a large crowd had assembled in the street and was gazing intently at the man's operations.

"You see, I'm what you might call a high flier," he said to a Times reporter, with whom he was carrying on a conversation by means of frequent shouts.

"Now the greater the elevation I reach the better I like it. Why, it would be like eating blackberry pie for me to dine while on the tip of the shaft reaching above the Postoffice Building."

The crowd in front of The Times Building gradually increased in numbers. They looked at Charles, and Charles looked at them. Both were immensely pleased.

"I always like a whole bunch of people to get around when I'm doing a job like this. The sight inspires me. It somehow recalls to my mind what an awful high-roller I am, after all."

"Are you in any way related to a Polar bear?" the scribe asked.

"Oh! my goodness, no; but some of my ancestors were Highlanders. That's how I inherited the desire to spend most of my time high up."

Just then the steeple jack edged up the pole some distance, and his voice could not be heard so well. The crowd down below gazed with keen interest as he descended a moment later with one swift slide and stopped near the top of the steeple on which the pole rests.

The loss of nerve for the fraction of a second would mean instant death. But the imminent risk failed to be appreciated by the painter. He quickly made his way back and commenced gliding the ball at the top of the pole.

"I've been thinking about learning a few tricks that will startle the world," he mused. "Now, already I can stand on my head on top of a pole, and never think about it. Some day I'll come around here and show you how it's done."

Talking as he worked, the aerialist completed his task, gathered his working instruments together, and departed, while the spectators dispersed.
